

I am appalled that Sinclair is using the public airwaves to air partisan views. I always thought this was against the law.

The reach and influence of media to all the citizenry and its potential to air truth or propaganda makes it crucial that the industry abides by ethics that direct it to serve the public weal--not private spleen.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
